25-Year Workmanship & Roof Penetration Warranty

Icon Power provides a 25-year limited workmanship warranty, warranting that your solar system is installed correctly, safely, and in compliance with industry standards, manufacturer specifications, applicable laws, permits, and utility requirements.

Icon Power also provides a 25-year limited roof penetration warranty, covering water intrusion or roof damage caused by penetrations made during installation. If an installation-related roof issue occurs, Icon Power will repair the affected area and any resulting property damage.

Exclusions apply, including pre-existing roof conditions, normal wear and tear, weather events, third-party roof work, unauthorized modifications, and damage unrelated to the solar installation. Roof work performed by others during the warranty period may void coverage. Installation may void existing roofing warranties, for which Icon Power is not responsible.

What is net metering or net billing?

Net metering (also known as net energy metering or NEM), is a billing method that allows you to send excess solar energy to the grid in exchange for credit.

Net billing is a billing method that allows you to send excess solar energy to the grid in exchange for a buyback at wholesale or a predetermined rate. Compensation varies based on the utility company.

At night, you'll use energy from the grid. During the day, your home will use the energy your solar panels create. If there's surplus energy that you aren't using, utility companies will buy back any extra energy you've created from your solar panels. This can help offset your energy bill.

The system design may change based on a detailed engineering site audit. A solar power system is customized for your home, so its pricing, savings and system production will vary based on a number of factors, including, but not limited to, final design, system size and configuration, utility rates, household energy usage, weather, shading from growing trees, damage to system components, applicable rebates, tax benefits, and the fluctuation of the price of electricity in your utility district. Nothing contained in this proposal is a guarantee of offset against current and/or future energy costs which may vary depending on usage(s) and/or other individual factors related to the system and home. Utility payments will vary based on local rates and rate changes. Local rates are subject to change.
